13 Ways to Screw up Your College Interview

Written By Ian McWethy

Directed By Dr. Stephenson

When two college recruiters at a prestigious university need to fill one last spot to keep their jobs, thirteen eccentric, dimwitted and slightly-insane high school seniors are eager to come in for an interview. What seems like a simple task turns into a nightmare when the applicants turn out to be a reality TV star, a practicing vampire, an amateur magician, and others that are much, much worse. Each applicant's interview hilariously illustrates what NOT to do at a college interview.

Cast

In order of appearance

Interviewer 1: James Duval has experience as a stage hand and is overjoyed at starring in this production. He is a Senior studying computer science at FSU PC. He'd like to thank President Obama and Dr. Stephenson for encouraging him to be his best self.

Ben/Interviewer 2: Joshua Bittel has never starred in any productions. He is a freshmen attending Florida State, majoring in Computer Science. He plans to eventually work for either Google or Microsoft as a software engineer. He'd like to thank Dr. Stephenson for volunteering him for this role. He loves it.

Harold: Wiatt Lewis, hasn't been in any productions since 4th grade so don't expect anything great, he is a sophomore civil engineering major at Florida State University Panama City, he would like to thank Dr. Stephenson for making him sign up for the class and opening his eyes to the world of theatre.

Jeff/Producer: Cory Morris is new to performing but it has always been a dream of his. He feels that he perfectly fits the character of Jeff. He is a junior studying Business Administration at FSU PC. He'd like to thank everyone for coming out and he hopes they enjoy the show!

Brett: Nick Alexander has never been in any production but stands adamant that he is the perfect person for the role of Brett, which many of his fellow students stand by as many find themselves unable to differentiate him from the character. He is a senior communication major at Florida State Panama City. He'd like to thank Dr. Stephenson for pushing him to be his best.

Lily/Emily: Eliana Ariel Kleimeyer has played in a handful of productions including "Desperate Ambrose", "Our Town", and "If Sherlock Holmes Were a Woman". She is a Social Science major at Florida State University Panama City, and plans to transfer to University of Central Florida in the Fall. She would like to thank Dr. Stephenson for keeping her involved in theatre and being such a great professor and director.

Kelly: Laura Quinn, Has never been in any productions ever. She was in a ballet performance once, but when the music came on, stood there and didn't dance. She is a psychology major at Florida State University Panama City. She would like to thank Dr. Stephenson because she would have never taken the class if she weren't teaching it, and the wonderful people who give her confidence, Elizabeth Johnson, Blake Nelson, and Dr. Stephenson most of all.

Elizabeth/Eve: Kelsey Hennessy has been in a number of productions including “Little Shop of Horrors,” “Bye Bye Birdie,” and “A Fair to Remember.” She is an anthropology major at Florida State University Panama City planning on transferring to main campus in the Fall. Theatre is and always will be her first love. She’d like to thank her cat Keiki for truly believing in her and cuddling her when times are hard.
