Fall 2022

Full Bloom Planning!

By: Charla S. Perdue

Spring semester means summer lab planning is in full bloom. During the spring semester, CSI students are busy taking the prerequisites classes for the summer labs. They are learning the foundational information needed to come to campus and complete the hands-on labs for what they will be taught about this semester.

Students must currently be enrolled in the summer lab prerequisite courses (CJE 4241 and CJE 4135), to take the summer 2022 labs. This will also be a time when students must be checking their FSU email regularly!

Summer labs are not normal courses. They require a great deal of planning on the part of the instructors and the student. The need to purchase uniforms, order PPE, set up travel, complete prelab assignments and other responsibilities will necessitate students pay attention to communications, so nothing is missed.

If you are not already in the Canvas CSI organization site, you should receive an invitation to join in the next couple of weeks. Accept this invite. We use this site to relay summer lab information, including dates, travel, uniforms, travel assistance and prelab assignments.

This summer we are adding an additional section (4 instead of 3) of each lab to offer smaller lab sizes and more choices for dates to choose from

We are looking forward to the labs and getting to perform the techniques we have learned in the classroom.

Summer Lab Dates

(Each lab week is located on the PC campus, Monday-Friday 9am-5pm CST daily)

Messages From CSI Alumni

After graduating in Fall of 2021, I immediately wanted to jump into the workforce. I started applying to multiple jobs online and used many of the skills I learned at FSU when creating my resume and preparing for upcoming interviews. I interviewed with several law enforcement agencies before landing a position as an evidence technician with the Fort Myers Police Department.

I have been working for FMPD for several months now and have learned so much in my time here. One of the most important aspects I've learned while working under law enforcement is how important both individual and teamwork is in the field. My work is not only a reflection of me but also my unit. I have also worked closely with other surrounding police departments and various agencies. This has helped me form connections and learn how some of the different agencies operate as well and what the requirements of their jobs are.

One of the best things about my job is having the ability to keep learning and advancing in the field. There are multiple opportunities to advance in career through promotions, certifications, and joining different associations. Within the first couple of months at FMPD, I became a member the Property and Evidence Association of Florida (PEAF) and thus a certified evidence technician. I am excited to continue learning through my time with FMPD as I advance in my career. I know that I would not be where I am today if not for my experiences from FSU and the Crime Scene Investigation program. I will continue with that knowledge throughout my life.

2023 is the YEAR for a long-anticipated goal that I expect to reach this Spring. I will earn a Master of Science degree majoring in Law Enforcement Intelligence – MS.

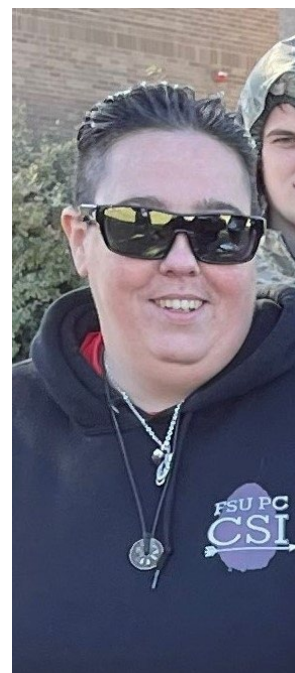

I am a testament that you are never too old to accomplish your goals and do not let fear get in your way. In 2019, I was petrified but encouraged to take a class. Looking back, I wish I had done this much sooner as the value of this program would have provided a broad knowledge base that would have served my agency and myself tremendously within the Criminal Investigations Division well before my retirement date in 2021. Other priorities with raising a family and work obligations provided the justification to put off higher education beyond my bachelor's degree. Times and technologies have since changed, leading as well to a better atmosphere of earning a master's degree. My Grandfather told me a long time ago that no one can take your education away from you! I was the first one in my family to graduate from college in 1984.

If you are considering endeavoring into a master's program, do it sooner than later before "life" provides those justifications to put it off till later. I enjoyed this journey immensely and have learned so much! All the Professors are rockstars in their careers who provided real world applications in the assignments.

If you have any questions or need a recommendation do not hesitate to reach out to me. GO NOLES!

CSI Student of the Semester

Sagan May

Sagan has been selected as the CSI student of the semester for the work done in arranging a weekly, in person, study group for CSI students taking online courses this semester. Thank you for your leadership!

Congratulations Sagan!
